Comments and Observations

This Memorial Day month I again honor the LM grads who not only answered their nation's clarion call but made the supreme sacrifice for their country during the Vietnam War. No matter how you feel about this conflict, these brave young men died well before their time. Don't forget about the many combat veterans who succumbed to the ravages of Agent Orange and PTSD years after the fact ... I'm thinking of Bob Woods '60, Don Herbert '60, and likely Darrell Hall '60 ... My overall information on LM veterans, especially the ones who graduated after 1964, is incomplete ...

LM Trivia Pursuit

What LM grad was the 1957 Capital University homecoming queen?

Last Month's Question: Who was the only sophomore on the '57-season varsity football team? John Moore '60, who was football team captain and All-City in both football and baseball his senior year ... He missed making All-State in football by just a few votes ... After graduation John served in the Navy and was employed in the US space program for a while before becoming a successful businessman in the "cut and sew" industry ...
