Comments and Observations

Budgets are the beating hearts of every substantial enterprise, activity, and project but are typically hidden from public scrutiny ... LM likely collected a lot money for hosting football games ... Were we required to share our gate with visiting teams? The money had to go somewhere ... The bigger question is whether LM had its own individual budget ... If so, who created it, who approved it, who had access to it, and who controlled it ... Where were the checks and balances? Where was the accountability? "Inquiring minds want to know" ...

When the school bought new football and basketball uniforms, what happened to the old ones? How old were the baseball uniforms? How old were the marching band uniforms? Who provided the majorette uniforms?
